Islamic State behead, mutilate, rape, enslave and massacre exactly as the Koran instructs – emulating the Prophet of Islam

Obama, Cameron et al say Islamic State are just a bunch of barbarians, not real Muslims. But as they behead and mutilate “infidels” they’re only doing what the Koran and the Prophet instructs

By Raymond Ibrahim

23 September 2014

To understand why the Islamic State not only decapitates its “infidel” captives, but also mutilates and mocks their corpses — and all to sadistic laughter — one need only turn to the Koran and deeds of Islamic prophet Muhammad.

The Koran exhorts believers to “Fight them [those who oppose Islam, Allah will torment them with your hands, humiliate them, empower you over them, and heal the hearts of the believers, removing the rage from their hearts” (Koran 9:14-15).

As usual, to understand the significance of any Koran verse, one must turn to the sira and hadith — the biography and anecdotes of Muhammad, respectively — for context.

Thus we come to the following account concerning the slaughter of ‘Amr bin Hisham, a pagan Arab chieftain originally known as “Abu Hakim” (Father of Wisdom) until Muhammad dubbed him “Abu Jahl” (Father of Stupidity) for his staunch opposition to Islam.

After ‘Amr was mortally wounded by a new convert to Islam during the Battle of Badr, Abdullah ibn Mas‘ud, a close companion of Muhammad, saw the “infidel” chieftain collapsed on the ground. So he went to him and started abusing him. Among other things, Abdullah grabbed and pulled ‘Amr’s beard and stood in triumph on the dying man’s chest.

According to Al-Bidaya wa Al-Nihaya (“The Beginning and the End”), Ibn Kathir’s authoritative history of Islam, “After that, he [Abdullah] slit his [‘Amr’s] head off and bore it till he placed it between the hands of the Prophet. Thus did Allah heal the hearts of the believers with it.”

This, then, is the true significance of Koran 9:14-15: “Fight them, Allah will torment them with your hands [mortally wounding and eventually decapitating ‘Amr], humiliate them [pulling his beard], empower you over them [standing atop him], and heal the hearts of the believers, removing the rage from their hearts [at the sight of his decapitated head].”

The logic here is that, pious Muslims are so full of zeal for Allah’s cause that the only way their inflamed hearts can be at rest is to see those who oppose Allah and his prophet utterly crushed — humiliated, mutilated, decapitated. Then the hearts of the believers can be at ease and “healed.”

This is surely one of the reasons behind the Islamic State’s dissemination of gory videos and pictures of its victims: the new “caliphate” is trying to heal the hearts of every believer inflamed for the cause of Allah.

If this sounds too farfetched, consider the following picture of a decapitated “infidel” from the Islamic State’s websites. The Arabic caption to the left says “healing for hearts” — a clear reference to the aforementioned Koran verse:

Koran 96:15-16 also alludes to the fate of ‘Amr and offers more context applicable to the Islamic State: “No! If he does not desist, we will surely drag him by the forelock — a lying, sinning forelock.”

According to al-Alusi’s tafsir, or exegesis, after Abdullah placed his foot on the dying foe of Islam, ‘Amr opened his eyes and recognized him. The once proud chieftain lamented that he was being killed by a common “goat herder,” to which Abdullah replied, “Islam elevates and nothing is elevated above it.”

He then sheared his head off. “But he could not carry it, so he made holes in the ears and put thread through them and dragged the head to the prophet. Then Gabriel, peace be upon him, came laughing and saying, “O prophet, you got an ear and an ear — and the head between for a bonus!”

Based, then, on the treatment of ‘Amr bin Hisham (aka “Abu Jahl”) as recorded in Islam’s core texts — Koran, hadith, sira, and tafsirs — all sadistic acts being carried out by the Islamic State were in fact committed by the earliest Muslims and all to the complete approval of Muhammad (and apparently the “angel” Gabriel, too). They include:

Beheadings and mutilations (e.g., holes in ears of ‘Amr)

Humiliation and gestures of triumph (feet on chest of fallen victim, dragging his body, or head, on the ground)

Laughter, mockery, and celebration (for the hearts of the believers are now “healed”)

Indeed, along with the “healing for hearts,” consider pictures taken from the Islamic State’s websites and how well they conform to the above accounts describing the slaughter of ‘Amr[*]:

Note how the following picture, demonstrates that the enemies of Islam have been brought low, as Koran 9:14-15 promised, Islamic State members make it a point to place their feet atop their fallen corpses, most of which were first decapitated.

Note also how the ubiquitous black flag of Islam is always raised above the fallen “infidels” — a reminder that “Islam elevates and nothing is elevated above it,” as Abdullah told ‘Amr, with his foot on his chest, before beheading him.

Note the jocularity reminiscent of the “angel” Gabriel laughing and joking about the mutilated head of ‘Amr. (If Allah’s angel finds such human carnage amusing, shouldn’t Allah’s Jihadi servants as well?)

The following picture is reminiscent of how ‘Amr’s head was treated: mutilated and dragged on the ground. In this case, it is a decapitated body that is being degraded:

The next two pictures are of especial interest because they actually use the relatively arcane Arabic word haz (bottom left-hand corner), which means to “slice” off, to describe the beheading of Islam’s enemies. The standard Arabic word for “cut” generally used to describe a beheading is qata’.

That the word used (haz) is the same word found in the early jihad literature is no coincidence and indicative of the source of inspiration: Islam’s scriptures. (Also - an Islamic cleric explained to his followers how one must “slice” (haz) heads off — and do it slowly to enjoy it more — as opposed to merely chopping it off.)

In short, not only are the members of the Islamic State closely patterning themselves after Muhammad — whom Koran 33:21 exhorts believers to emulate in all ways — but even in the most sadistic of details are they finding support in their prophet.

Nor should it come as any surprise that Muslims are aware of these accounts from early Islamic history. After all, the near hagiographic Battle of Badr, including the story of ‘Amr’s slaughter, is routinely glorified worldwide in mosque sermons, on Islamic satellite stations, and in Islamic texts. It is a source of great pride.

Thus when young Muslims express their anger and frustration at the state of affairs of the Islamic world, their clerics counsel them to go to the jihad in Iraq and Syria and decapitate themselves an infidel — which, according to the Koran, should “heal their hearts.”

(Perhaps that’s why a British female convert to Islam is so eager to “behead Christians with a blunt knife”? Perhaps that’s why a Jihadi savagely pulled out and bit into the heart of a fallen Syrian soldier — to heal his own heart by sating his rage against Allah’s “enemies”?)

Such Muslims join the jihad, and not only do they decapitate, but they mutilate, humiliate, and laugh at the disgraced enemies of Allah — in perfect emulation of the Islamic glory/gory stories they grew up on.

This is the true cult of jihad which few non-Muslims can begin to comprehend — and little wonder, considering that their political leaders, professors, and media continue to babble foolishly about how Islam is the “religion of peace.”

EU INTENTIONALLY COLLAPSING EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WITH ILLEGALS

The 'Kalergi Plan' Started in the 70s

Leo Lyon Zagami

28 AUGUST 2015

Illegal Muslim refugee trafficking is now creating chaos at the Greece-Macedonia border and the constant flood of boats arriving from Libya reveal a network that uses structured routes that seem unstoppable as they generate money for the mafia and the terrorist organizations involved like ISIS.

This scenario seems to fit perfectly with a secret plan of the New World Order known as the Coudenhove-Kalergi Plan that some people in European right-wing circles say was created for the systematic genocide of the people of Europe.

This plan was apparently devised by an Austrian diplomat and Freemason named Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi (1894- 1972). The Kalergi family roots can be traced back to Byzantine royalty via Venetian aristocracy. Coudenhove-Kalergi was actually the first proponent of a unified Europe back in the 1920s and for this reason Coudenhove-Kalergi is recognized as the founder of the first popular movement for a United Europe.

The Coudenhove-Kalergi European Prize is awarded every two years to European leaders who have excelled in promoting what is beyond any political or religious ideology. Angela Merkel and Herman Van Rompuy, two of the top pawns in the Bilderberg Club, have received this award in recent years.

Coudenhove-Kalergi’s father, initially an anti-Semite, later became a close friend of ✧ Theodor Herzl, the founder of Zionism, but his son, Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi, also has strong connections with the Catholic elite due to his aristocratic status.

In 1922, he co-founded the Pan-European Union (PEU) with Archduke Otto von Habsburg, a staunch Catholic who was the head of the Habsburg dynasty and former Crown Prince of Austria-Hungary. He became involved with the Pan-European Union after becoming Grand Master and Sovereign of the highly influential Order of the Golden Fleece in 1922. Otto became International President of the PEU in 1973, after Coudenhove’s death.

According to Coudenhove-Kalergi’s autobiography, at the beginning of 1924 through Baron Louis de Rothschild he was in contact with ✧ Max Warburg, who offered to finance his movement for the next 3 years giving him 60,000 gold marks.

The Coudenhove-Kalergi Plan becomes evident in 1925 when he writes in Practical Idealism (Praktischer Idealismus): “The man of the future will be of mixed race. Today’s races and classes will gradually disappear owing to the vanishing of space, time, and prejudice. The Eurasian-Negroid race of the future, similar in its appearance to the Ancient Egyptians, will replace the diversity of peoples with a diversity of individuals.”

This book is very hard to get a hold of today. In Germany the book is practically censored, although it isn’t present on the official list of books censored by the German government. In 1990, the publishing company, “Independent News” [Unabhängige Nachrichten], published a summary of the book and contemplated printing it in its entirety, but the government initiated a police search of the premises and the only copy of Praktischer Idealismus was confiscated. The book is not mentioned on the official internet pages of the Pan-European Movement, which is understandable because its content is directly in opposition to the movement’s official program.

Coudenhove-Kalergi suggested Beethoven’s hymn as the EU’s national anthem and was very active in connection with the design of the EU logo which contains masonic symbols. He was initiated in Freemasonry in the Humanitas Lodge in Vienna in the early 1920’s but left in 1926 to avoid the heavy criticism which occurred as a result of the relationship between the Pan-European movement and Freemasonry. Some say later, in 1947, he founded the powerful Ur-Lodge Pan-Europa that is still active to this day and draws members from the political and economic elite.

Coudenhove-Kalergi’s ground work prepared the EU for what many Christian’s familiar with the prophecies of “The Book of Revelation” perceive as “The New Holy Roman Empire.”

The socialist elite of Europe born out of Coudenhove-Kalergi’s plan have created a United Europe backed by the Vatican under a centralized government, a system that actually will be the prototype for the U.S. and the rest of the world when the New World Order is finalized.

In the meantime, tensions rise as the Muslim population is being pushed like never before towards Europe to fulfill “The Kalergi Plan.” This will create civil unrest and wars in most areas of southern Europe almost certainly by the 2020’s facilitating population reduction.

politicians in Paris. Its amazing how small town people have a better understanding of how to deal with evil, than metropolitan people. Chardon also said (and this is what makes his statements even better): the Republic should promotes the practice of the Christian faith.

This makes Mr. Chardon superior to those secular conservatives who just say, “ban Islam, but allow homosexuality” and all of the other drivel that they say.

I believe at times that the the French can get falsely accused of ultra liberalism. In many ways they can be more radically Christian than people in the US. Unlike the “freedom of religion” crowd in America, they put a ban on the hijab, and the society in France is so proud of its culture that the environment it produces compels everyone to speak the language of the land. But most of all, let us not forget that France was the first country — and probably the most active nation — to participate in the beautiful Crusades against Islam. They were not secular wars, but Christian wars. We should not doubt that remnants of the Crusader spirit are flowing through the blood of the French people. Fads come and go, but the ideas of eternal beauty, live on. Trends are manufactured, and they shrivel up and perish before the shining sun of eternal idea.

Freedom of religion, or the opinion of “doing whatever you want and believing whatever you want” are transient in the presence of timeless truth. To die unto the self, to fight for lands destined by Heaven, to fight for the advancement of eternal love — that is, the Holy Cross — these are ideas that surpass the temporary and the temporal, they surpass the carnal impulses and transcend the obsessions of the flesh, and move the heart to a timeless love, emanating from that which is spaceless and boundless, free from the ego, free from selfish desires, free from Satan, and bringing us to the holy ark, to sail away from the capricious waves of human fascination, into the realm of selfless compassion, and upon the lofty Mount Ararat, where the dove brings the olive branch of peace. This is the true peace, “not as the world gives do I give to you.” (John 14:27)

Peace from the wiles of the devil, peace from the works of Satan which Christ came to destroy. If the society is truly going to have peace, then it must be a Christian society. Not one where sodomites dictate laws, where they crash planes (like what happened to the Germanwings plane) and derail trains (as what just took place with the Amtrak train), or where Muslims hijack planes and crash them into buildings. A society where goodness is given liberty to be done, and where evil is given no license. The state is to “punish those who do evil and to praise those who do good.” (1 Peter 2:14) But now, the states of the Western world are pursuing the opposite of this.

I remember when I was in Spain I saw a beautiful statue in the middle of a plaza in Madrid, showing a great Spanish warrior of the Reconquista (the longest war in Christian history, lasting almost 800 years), stepping on the head of Muslim Ghazi (Arabic word for a warrior of Islam). I was in absolute awe of the photo and had to take a picture of it: I love the beautiful illustration it illuminates of Christian supremacy and empire. Spain — the terra sancta of Europe, and the flower of Christendom. That this statue, alongside a whole array of statues of Reconquista warriors and Conquistadors, still stand tall with all conspicuous pride in modern Spain, tells us something quite profound: Underneath all of the debris of modernism, the Spirit of Christian Militancy still stands; behind all of the ruins of an almost forgotten history, the heart of Christendom is still beating in a body that only needs to be awakened, so that the holy blood of sacred land — destined by mighty Heaven and consecrated by the Cross — may flow with all zeal and tenacity. I believe that the body of Christendom will be reinvigorated, with the true Body of Christ rushing with all honor and love, and throwing away all transient nonsense, will defend the precepts that will live on for now and forever.

Mayor In France Pushes For New Law In France That Will Ban Islam, Saying, “We Must Ban The Muslim Faith In France.”

Theodore Shiebat

A French mayor, Robert Chardon, is calling for governmental legislation that will ban Islam. He said in a recent statement: We must ban the Muslim faith in France.

He also stated that “it’s the only solution for most of France’s problems,” and that “We also need a Marshall Plan to send Muslims to countries where the religion is practiced”. This man is the mayor of Venelles, a French town with a population of about 8,000 people, and he is more righteous than any of the

Do Syrian refugees pose a threat to national security?

Several governors say that they will not resettle any refugees from Syria in their states, amid reports that at least one of the Paris attackers slipped through Europe's immigration system and concerns about "gaping holes" impacting America's screening process. On Monday, November 16th, Texas Governor Greg Abbott announced that he sent a letter to President Obama saying that Texas will not take any Syrian refugees in light of the attacks: "Neither you nor any federal official can guarantee that Syrian refugees will not be part of any terroristic activity," Abbott wrote. "As such, opening our door to them irresponsibly exposes our fellow Americans to unacceptable peril." He joined a growing list of governors who have said they will not resettle Syrian refugees, including Arkansas Governor Asa Hutchinson in opposing the move, who said Monday in a tweet: "As Governor I will oppose Syrian refugees being located to Arkansas."

In Michigan, which has a large Arab-American population, Gov. Rick Snyder said Sunday he was putting his prior calls for the state to accept more refugees on hold until the Department of Homeland Security reviewed its screening procedures.

"Michigan is a welcoming state and we are proud of our rich history of immigration," Snyder said in a statement. "But our first priority is protecting the safety of our residents."

The governor later added, "It's also important to remember that these attacks are the efforts of extremists and do not reflect the peaceful ways of people of Middle Eastern descent here and around the world."

The Detroit Free Press reported that between 1800-and-2000 refugees had been resettled in Michigan over the past year and that approximately 200 of those were from Syria.

In a statement, Alabama Gov. Robert Bentley said he reached his decision "after full consideration of this weekend's attacks of terror on innocent citizens in Paris... I will not stand complicit to a policy that places the citizens of Alabama in harm's way."

State officials said that no Syrian refugees have been relocated in Alabama to date, though some have been processed by neighboring states. According to the statement, the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency is working diligently with federal agencies to monitor any possible threats. To date there has been no credible intelligence of terror threats in Alabama.

On Saturday, Louisiana governor and Republican presidential candidate Bobby Jindal raised concerns about Syrian refugees who have entered the U.S. in recent months, particularly those in his home state.

"Louisiana has been kept in the dark about those seeking refuge in the state," Jindal wrote in a letter to Obama. "It is irresponsible and severely disconcerting to place individuals, who may have ties to ISIS, in a state without the state's knowledge or involvement. As governor of Louisiana, I demand information."

On Sunday, the State Department told New Orleans' WVL-TV that 14 Syrians had been resettled in Louisiana.

Earlier Sunday, White House Deputy National Security Adviser Ben Rhodes told "Fox News Sunday" that President Obama still plans to allow 10,000 Syrian refugees into the country within the next year and expressed confidence in the U.S. screening process.

"We had very robust vetting procedures for those refugees," Rhodes said.

However, Rep. Mike McCaul, R-Texas, the chairman of the House Homeland Security Committee, disagreed with Rhodes' assessment.

"I disagree," he said. "I've been briefed by the FBI and Homeland Security. They tell me that this cannot be done."

"We don't have the databases," he said.

McCaul went on to cite several problems with the administration's plan, including not having a comprehensive list of the estimated 5,000 or more foreign fighters around the world.

"Paris changes everything," McCaul said. "There are a lot of holes -- gaping holes."

In September, McCaul's committee released a 66-page, bipartisan report -- titled "Combating Terrorist and Foreign Fighter Travel" -- that raised dozens of major concerns including "gaping security weaknesses" in overseas, Syrian-refugee programs, especially in Europe.

And earlier this year, FBI Director James Comey acknowledged intelligence "gaps" in trying to screen potential refugees.

McCaul said Sunday that one or perhaps two of the terrorists in the coordinated terror attack in and around Paris on Friday night appear to have come from Syria -- as part of the flood of Syrian refugees into Europe as a result of Syria's years-long civil war.

The Islamic State terror group, which has flourished in war-torn Syria, has claimed responsibility for the attacks, in which at least 129 people were killed and dozens more injured.

GOP presidential candidate Ben Carson told "Fox News Sunday" that the United States is making a "huge mistake" in accepting the refugees and instead called for helping them to resettle in safer parts of their own region.

"But to bring them here under these circumstances is a suspension of intellect," said Carson, a retired pediatric neurosurgeon.

Fellow GOP challenger Sen. Marco Rubio suggested that even the concept of finding a foreign fighter amid Syrian refugees is impossible.

"The problem is not the background checks," the Florida lawmaker said on ABC's "This Week." "There is no background check system in the world that allows us to find that out because who do you call in Syria to background check them?"

The administration reportedly also had planned before the Paris attacks to increase the number of Syrian refugees potentially coming into the United States by opening or re-opening screening centers in Iraq and Lebanon.

The U.S. now has nine such centers around the world, which are run by the State Department and staffed by Homeland Security Department workers.

Michigan Governor Snyder is Halting the Flow of ‘Syrian Refugees’ into His State

At least two of the Paris terrorists entered Greece posing as so-called “Syrian refugees” in September — and were able to make their way to France, to prepare, arm and execute a massive terrorist attack just 90 days later. A Syrian ISIS operative claimed that more than 4000 covert ISIS gunmen have already been smuggled into Western nations — “hidden among innocent refugees.” Clearly, those in charge are not doing the proper vetting necessary in order to keep the bad guys out, and it makes it all the more scary knowing that the Canada will be accepting hundreds of thousands of refugees in the near future.

Michigan (USA) was slated to receive a whopping 10,000 “Syrian refugees” from Obama’s Office of Refugee Settlement... until today! when the governor told Obama that, after Paris, he will refuse to take a single one. Gov. Rick Snyder (R-MI) is halting the flow of refugees into his state. Justin Turdeau should take notice, take notice!

Following the deadly Paris terrorist attacks of Friday, 13 November 2015, which have been linked to ISIS, Gov. Snyder said he’s made the decision to suspend efforts to bring Syrian refugees to Michigan. While acknowledging the state’s “rich history of immigration” Snyder said the first priority needs to be protecting the safety of the state’s residents: “Given the terrible situation in Paris, I’ve directed that we put on hold our efforts to accept new refugees until the U.S. Department of Homeland Security completes a full review of security clearances and procedures,” Snyder said in a statement released to media Sunday.

No explanation necessary, Governor. We all understand what is going on around the world in terms of terror, and it is incredible that someone is finally willing to go against Barack Obama and take a stand. And Snyder is dead-on about Obama’s complete inability — or disinterest — in vetting these “refugees” for terrorist ties. Obama’s own DHS Secretary Jeh Johnson actually said “we don’t know a whole lot” about Syrian refugees coming into America, and that the DHS has “no active protocol” for properly screening them. What’s interesting is that Snyder initially “expressed support and interest in working with the federal government to accept refugees fleeing a war-torn Syria in the Middle East,” no doubt under pressure from the large numbers of Muslim residents in the state. But after Paris, he said “everything has changed” — and rightfully so.

Since Congress has either refused to try and stop Obama’s insane program to import 200,000 Muslim migrants — or are complicit in the plot, Gov. Snyder is showing that it is up to the states themselves to block our Madman-in-Chief before Paris attacks start to be duplicated across this nation.

Muslim gang-rape marathons continue across Europe: where’s the press?

Political-correctness now extends to the identification of rapists in Europe where the press continually under-reports the high incidence of the most heinous sexual assaults and gang-rapes you can hardly imagine.

The true War on Women is being waged as we speak in the form of child-rape, sexual assault, pedophilia and gangs of Muslim men brutally raping women, in marathon fashion while crowds cheer them on and the press all but ignores.

This is what is coming to America:

Katerina Nikolas at Digita Journal reports that the phenomenon is steadily growing across Europe, but tends to be under reported due to the high incidence of Muslim perpetrators which makes it politically incorrect to mention.

In December 2011 a Swedish mother-of-two was subjected to a brutal gang-rape by 12 Afghan immigrants in a refugee camp in Mariannelund. Reports stated “The rape was oral, anal and vaginal sometimes with three rapists inside her at the same time while everybody was cheering and clapping. The gruesome rape marathon lasted for 7 hours. 11 suspect may have been involved taking turns while drinking and getting high on drugs. The asylum seekers were cheering and clapping their hands during the rape marathon while calling the victim “whore” and “slut”.”

The woman went into shock while the rapes were still underway, and has since been in a heavily traumatized state. She is now subject to nightmares and panic attacks, and lives in a psychiatric clinic. She is bound to a wheelchair due to damages to her abdomen, and suffers from faecal incontinence.

In the U.K. there has been a steady stream of cases where primarily underprivileged young English girls have been targeted, groomed and raped by gangs of what the British press euphemistically refers to as Asian men. However, the published names of the perpetrators are primarily of Pakistan and Afghanistan origin when the gang rapists appear in court.

According to some of the mothers, a fear of being branded racist makes many of the police and social services reluctant to investigate the crimes as organized and connected. One mother from Rotherham, whose 14-year-old daughter was groomed into prostitution and multiply raped during a 12-month period, told me that almost every man convicted of these crimes in the north of England is from Pakistan but that the authorities insist that it is not relevant.”

More and more cases are reported across Europe. The following is just a very small sample (some figures indicate 5000 gang-rapes occur in France alone each year.)

In October 2011 a British woman was brutally gang-raped by five Afghan refugees in Banja Koviljaca, Serbia. According to the Austrian Times the men were living in a local refugee centre housing 2500 illegal immigrants.

In June 2011 a 14-year-old Norwegian girl, Eva Helgetun, committed suicide after being gang-raped by three teenage migrants.

In January 2013 the Local reported a 22-year-old woman was gang-raped by five men in Stockholm, the first of three reported gang-rapes in the city this year. Eight Muslim male teenagers have been arrested on suspicion of aggravated rape in connection with the three incidents.

In March 2013 a British tourist was gang-raped by three Arab men in a Spanish resort.

The list goes on and on – yet this is the culture we are importing into this country: Child and gang rape, clitorectomies, pedophilia and animal behavior. Make no mistake, what we read about these incidents in America are the tip of the iceberg of what's to come and our press is no better when it comes to shining a light on it.

In Stockholm, Sweden, as many as 20 Muslim men gang-raped an 11-year-old girl. A mother was hosting a birthday party at a public bath/swim center for a group of 11-and-12 year old children. Up to 20 Muslim men who lived at a nearby refugee center arrived at the public bath. They immediately began to assault the children, ripping their swimsuits off and beating the boys when they tried to stop the assault. Eventually, the men cornered one of the little girls in a grotto in the bathhouse and gang raped her. The police refused to press any charges.

England has probably the most massive Muslim rape and prostitution problem in Europe, in large part because the British government refuses to acknowledge it. Two years ago, the British online paper The Daily Mail reported that hundreds of white British girls were groomed to be used as prostitutes, rape victims, and sex slaves by Muslim men (whom the British media refers to as “Asians”): Agencies have identified a long-term pattern of offending by gangs of men, predominantly from the British Pakistani community, who have befriended and abused hundreds of vulnerable girls aged 11-to-16

In Australia, gang rapes of non-Muslim women by Muslim men became so overwhelming that they were eventually lumped together under the heading of “Sydney gang rapes.” The perpetrators were a group of Lebanese Muslims living in Australia and protected by citizenship that specifically targeted non-Muslim women and teenage girls, some as young as 14.

In 2012, in Germany, two Muslim Turkish teens gang-raped a 16-year-old girl in a parking lot. It was an attack of almost unthinkable savagery. When they finished raping the girl, they then assaulted her with a bottle. Even when the bottle broke, they continued her attack, eventually severing her intestine and her uterus. The girl survived, but her rectum was so destroyed by the attack that physicians had to create an artificial one for her. She was also rendered sterile by the attack.

German privacy laws meant that the attack went entirely unreported in the German press.

A 14-year-old girl in Trondheim took her own life after being assaulted and raped by three teenage boys. Only four weeks after she reported the rape at Kristiansen fortress, ninth grader could not bear to live any longer.

The girl's mother believes the group rape is the direct cause of why her daughter chose to take her life.

At Defend the Modern World, a victim writes of the “Muslim Rape War Against Europe.”

The social tragedies enabled by Islamic immigration are much more frequent and (for me) just as morally offensive as explosions on a subway.

Of all these social tragedies, perhaps the most widespread and horrific has been the ‘Muslim rape-wave’, also known as the ‘Rape-Jihad’; a phenomenon that has traumatized thousands of European and other non-Muslim women across the European Union.

There is no way I can think of to sugar this pill. In every Western European country, innocent women have been raped (on a massive scale) for ideological reasons. Females of all ages (including mothers and minors) have been subject to indescribable defilement by amoral savages.

The countries of Scandinavia have long pursued some of the most senseless immigration policies in the EU area. As a direct result of these, prospective Muslim colonists are increasingly choosing Nordic countries over traditional settlement targets like England and France. The social cost of this has already been appalling. Daniel Greenfield wrote the following (harrowing) summation of the situation in Sweden in Frontpagemag:

“Sweden now has the second highest number of rapes in the world, after South Africa, which at 53.2 per 100,000 is six times higher than the United States. Statistics now suggest that 1 out of every 4 Swedish women will be raped.

The most significant consequences of allowing Muslims to reside in the free world are not political, but social. The vague (and over-advertised) issue of Muslim ‘terrorism’ is, in-truth, likely to affect no more than 2-3% of Western citizens and of these, most will live in major cities and so be already accustomed to the risks involved.

The social tragedies enabled by Islamic immigration are much more frequent and (for me) just as morally offensive as explosions on a subway.

Of all these social tragedies, perhaps the most widespread and horrific has been the ‘Muslim rape-wave,’ also known as the ‘Rape-Jihad’; a phenomenon that has traumatized thousands of European and other non-Muslim women across the European Union.

There is no way I can think of to sugar this pill. In every Western European country, innocent women have been raped (on a massive scale) for ideological reasons. Females of all ages (including mothers and minors) have been subject to indescribable defilement by amoral savages.

Although it predates the attacks, this project accelerated rapidly after 9/11 and the subsequent mainstreaming of Islamist thought in Muslim communities. By 2010 at the latest, the word ‘epidemic’ was being openly used in conservative journals. As things stand now we should have no qualms about using the term ‘rape war.’

And these rapes are not the ‘lesser’ kind of rape (whatever Kenneth Clarke may have meant by that). They are typically angry affairs; sex mixed with assault. In many cases, should the victim have wandered alone into a Muslim ghetto, the rape will involve many different men (from the very young to the very old) and leaves the victim with severe internal injury and blood-borne infection.

In other cases, an initially willing female – after having had sex with a Muslim for the first time – will be plied with sedative drugs (especially highly addictive benzodiazepines) in order to make her more likely to agree to future sex, this time with paying associates of the original male. Such a process is known in the UK as ‘grooming’ and is estimated to have affected thousands (yes, thousands) of girls (predominantly those from broken backgrounds – orphans, runaways, those in social care etc...) across the country.

In Oxford, the green, ancient home of Anglo-Saxon learning, a group of young girls (all white English) from local care homes fell prey to a network of Pakistani pimps and sexual opportunists. In one case, reported in detail during the trial of the offenders last year, an 11 year old girl was repeatedly drugged with alcohol and tranquilizers. By her own estimates she was penetrated by more than five men per evening, often as she traveled in-and-out of consciousness. According to the BBC, on one occasion she vomited repeatedly over the side of the bed during intercourse, but even this didn't grant her any mercy. She was quickly cleaned and prepared for the next Muslim in line.

After many weeks of this treatment, the girl was branded (using a heated pin) with an 'M' for Mohammad; not the Prophet, but the name of her new Muslim 'owner'. She later (aged 12) became pregnant by this same tormentor, and was forced to have a backstreet abortion using crude and disgusting implements. She would only escape fully after turning 15, having endured four long years of incarceration and medieval torture.

Although it is a Europe-wide project, the main focus for the Rape-Jihad in recent years appears to have been Scandinavia.

The countries of Scandinavia have long pursued some of the most senseless immigration policies in the EU area. As a direct result of these, prospective Muslim colonists are increasingly choosing Nordic countries over traditional settlement targets like England and France. The social cost of this has already been appalling. Daniel Greenfield wrote the following (harrowing) summation of the situation in Sweden in Frontpagemag:

In 2003, Sweden's rape statistics were higher than average at 9.24, but in 2005 they shot up to 36.8 and by 2008 were up to 53.2. Now they are almost certainly even higher as Muslim immigrants continue forming a larger percentage of the population.

With Muslims represented in as many as 77% of the rape cases and a major increase in rape cases paralleling a major increase in Muslim immigration, the wages of Muslim immigration are proving to be a sexual assault epidemic by a misogynistic ideology."

Now, I am aware of the dangers of believing statistics from Sweden on this issue. Sweden has a notorious problem with militant feminism and what constitutes 'rape' in Stockholm may not even earn a reprimand in New York or London. Nevertheless, even if we adjust the statistics to focus exclusively on the most sensible definition of rape – i.e. unwanted penetrative sex – then all Nordic countries still have a social crisis the scale of which is bewildering.

Why do they do it?

The way Muslims rationalize their predation on women is as follows:

Because Western women wear short skirts and mingle with people of the opposite sex, they consequently have no virtue. They are slags, who, by their behaviour define themselves as sex-objects. Consequently, for someone to rape or molest them is no more than their behaviour invites and probably something they've experienced before. It may even be something they secretly desire.

This logic has a rough equivalent in a phrase used by violent pimps: "You can't rape a prostitute." By this, the pimp means that 'his' women have fallen voluntarily (by their being prostitutes) through a moral floor and that since they have done so, they have lost the right to complain about certain types of treatment.

While Pimps imagine this moral floor to have been broken by the woman allowing herself to be penetrated for money, the Muslim believes it to be broken by the wearing of high heels, or by making innocent jokes about sex with male friends.

As a woman then, you won't fully know that you've 'fallen' in a Muslim's estimation, until he's forcing himself on top of you.

Conclusion

I am not a feminist. I do retain the unfashionable belief that men have a responsibility to protect women. Consequently, I believe we all deserve a portion of the blame for this scandal. Our reaction to date has been timid and inadequate. If one (just one) Afghan Muslim Woman was raped by a European soldier today, we would lose a hundred troops in the cause of her avenging. Yet thousands upon thousands of European women have already been traumatized by the enemy in our own countries and we have failed to respond.

The guilt may be theirs, the shame is our own.

they are at war with us. And ISIS believes it is at war with Canada — and not just because our jets are part of the coalition bombing their positions in Iraq and Syria. They are at war with us because of our values and culture, so even after the Liberal government withdraws our jets from the Middle East, ISIS will still see us as the enemy. They also see us as the enemy because of the Liberals' refugee policy: Many of the legitimate refugees we will soon be taking are trying to escape ISIS. For Trudeau and the Liberals to bull ahead is to put Canadians at risk for their party's conceit.

Liberals fail Canada with Syrian refugee pledge

One of the terrorists who attacked Paris on Friday night crossed into Europe through the Greek island of Leros disguised as a Syrian refugee a little more than a month ago. At the G20 summit in Antalya, Turkey on Sunday morning, Canada's new Liberal Prime Minister Justin Trudeau reasserted his government's determination to bring 25,000 Syrian refugees to Canada in the next six weeks without first doing security checks. In light of the horrific, murderous terror attacks in the French capital on Friday, 13 November 2015 - there is only one word for the Liberals' stubborn insistence on carrying through with their feel-good refugee promise: insane.

Canada should help alleviate the Syrian refugee crisis. We are a country of tolerance towards immigrants. On a per capita basis, we accept among the most refugees and immigrants in the world. But to accept a huge influx of people from a region and a faith full of people sworn to destroy us without first screening them for terrorists and extremists in their midst is, frankly, insane.

A government's first duty is to ensure the security of its people and its borders. Nothing else a government does — economic development, social programs, culture — compares. So the Liberals are falling down on their number one duty within their first few days in office simply because they refuse to abandon their touchy-feely refugee pledge. Their stance is part naivety in believing that Islam is not the problem: What is needed to stop ISIS and other Islamic extremists is a hug, respect for their beliefs and an apology for Western aggression. It is also part arrogance: Their approach is superior; they can see better than everyone what needs to be done; their good will shines so brightly that ISIS and others cannot help but see it and reciprocate. There is also more than a little political correctness stirred in: We must drop our guard in order to show beyond a doubt that we are not racist, imperialist or doubtful about multiculturalism. None of that, though, makes the commitment to rush 25,000 Syrians to Canada any less insane, especially in the face of proof from France of the danger of doing so.

Getting rid of extremists once they arrive here is very difficult. Trudeau and the Liberals may not think we are at war with ISIS, but ISIS certainly believes
